Seattle, Washington

Speakers to be Announced

MARK YOUR CALENDARS NOW

The HDS returns to Seattle for its 2010 Conference from October 1-3. The venue is the historic Museum of History & Industry near Union Bay. Details for the complete program are still being worked on and will be posted at www.hds.org and published in the Journal of Diving History. Global Diving & Salvage will again host the HDS welcoming reception at their offices, with hallways decorated with antique diving gear and salvage artifacts. There will be a full speakers program, displays of vintage equipment, the annual HDS Awards Banquet and a chance to dive historical surface supplied equipment. Don't miss this, the Society's premier annual event. The 2006 Seattle Conference and HDS Awards Banquet both sold out so get your tickets in advance. Ticket availability will be posted in the Bulletin section of www.hds.org.

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Historical Diving Society is seeking speakers for this HDS Conference. Interested persons should submit a description of their presentation to conference organizer, Sid Macken, via email at SidM@hds.org no later than May 15, 2010.
